EMPLOYMENT IN COUNTY MINES AT NEW PEAK

Great Northern Co. To Develop a Group Of Willow Valley Mines

In an interview today with Arthur W. Hoge, the president of the Great Northern Gold Mines, Inc., he states that their plans of extensive development are progressing in good shape and that between now and the first of the New Year they fully expect to be in a position to not only carry on an extensive plan of development in their present operation, in the way of opening up new ore bodies that have as yet not been developed, but they also have plans for the opening up of the old Harmony Channel and also for the development of their large Willow Valley group of properties on an extensive scale.

This Willow Valley group of properties, which adjoins the Murchie group, is looked upon as being one of the best undeveloped groups of properties in the entire camp today and with the company's large acreage, it will no doubt develop into a large and profitable producer when the company's plans are carried out and put into execution.

This Willow Valley group has never been developed to any large extent, but there have been numerous small shafts sunk down to a depth of from 50 to 200 feet and, according to the best records available, from early day history, this Willow Valley group with its shallow development has produced in excess of $500,000,.00.

The character of the ore is of a heavy sulphide variety and the values run up into the hundred of dollars per ton and, consequently, a large portion of the value in the crude workings of the early day operations were lost. The last 100 tons of ore that were milled on what is known as the Willow Valley Quartz Patent produced in an ordinary stamp mill the total sum of $4,480.00 in free gold and with modern day devlopments with oil flotation, this same ore would have, no doubt, produced in excess of $7,000.00 or over $70.00 per ton.

There is on this group of properties a net work of sixteen known ledges that will be opened up through one main central shaft with a minimum amount of development work and, consequently, with the high values of the ore that have already been established, the company can well look forward to developing a most profitable producer.

This group of properties is on the same contact in the same mineral zone as is the Murchie group which is recognized today as being one of the county's most profitable properties.

At the present time, the Great Northern operations are being carried on largely through a system of leasing on the upper levels and which are on a profit producing basis. The present Great Northern operations have produced approximately $500,000.00 and there has so far been only the one vein developed and opened up to any particular extent; whereas, there are four known veins in this particular operation, which the company plans to open up and develop as soon as the financial arrangements are completed.

This large group of properties, taken as a whole, are therefore, one of the oustanding groups in Nevada county today and will, no doubt, develop into one of the biggest and best operations that there is anywhere in the camp when the company's plan are finally put into execution and carried out.

The old Harmony Channel, that was worked up to the company's lines, was one of the richest channels in the entire county and it carried a large quantity of rich quartz boulders. Some of the boulders ran as high as over $1,000.00 in value in free gold, and it is the general opinion of the best engineering authorities in the camp that the largest part of these quartz boulders came off of the properties that are going to be developed by this operation.

UNIVERSITY CLUB PLAN MADE AT FOOTBALL RALLY

Alumni of many universities gathered Wednesday night at the Bret Harte Inn for the annual dinner before the Stanford-California Big Game being played tomorrow. Universities from all sections of the United States were represented, as well as the California and Stanford alumni. Among these were Harvard, Minnesota, Colorado School of Mines, Michigan, Nevada, U. S. C., St. Marys, and even from the University of Cambridge, in England.

Stanford and California yells and songs were rendered, under the able direction of Myers Mobley, accompanied by Bev Barron on the piano. William Durbrow, class of '98, U. C., was toastmaster of the evening, and called on Bob Plate, Stanford, Harold Biggs, U. C., Orlando McCraney, U. C., and Mrs. Vera Ingram, U. C., for speeches and remarks. All those attending rose, gave their class, and the name of their Alma Mater, amid much din and merriment.

Mr. Plate made the suggestion that a University Club be formed in Grass Valley and Nevada City. Definite steps were taken to formulate plans for this club, and Mr. Durbrow, Mr. Plate, and Mr. McCraney were named on a committee to draw up plans for the project.

The dinner ended among cries of "Who has the Axe?" and remarks that the Stanfords would be sadder, but wiser men after Saturday's game.

Mrs. Vera Ingram, O. McCraney, and Harold Biggs, are to be complimented for the arrangements they made for the very successful affair.

LAVA CAP NOW HAS 145 MEN AT WORK

The crew at the Lava Cap property has been increased to 145 men. The 300 ton daily capacity mill is treating better than 200 tons of ore per day. The company contemplates sinking the Central shaft another 200 feet, the work to start about December 1. This property is making splendid progress under Superintendent Otto E. Schiffner.

FACTORY STREET IMPROVED

Superintendent of Public Works, Herb Hallet, and his crew of men are now at work grading and leveling Factory street. They are using a grader and blade to do the work.

Miners at Work:: 2063 Payroll Now:: $268,000

For the first time in several months mining activity shows a big forward advance. A canvass of mining operators throughout the county reveals an increase in the number of men employed of over 50 during the month, making a total of 2,063 and a total monthly payroll of $268,190.

The two companies which are chiefly responsible for this increase are the Idaho-Maryland and the Lava Cap. Development work in these properties is being vigorously prosecuted along with the production of ore. These two companies along with the Empress, Murchie and North-Star-Empire are energetically push development either laterally or to deeper levels.

In another column Arthur Hoge reveals the plans for developing a Willow Valley group of mines which are becoming of more and more prospective value with every days development of the Murchie which adjoins them.

Abundant rains will soon lead to resumption of sluicing on several important gravel properties. Among these, Fred Joubert's Depot Hill, Frank Crampton's Relief Hill and others that depend upon a plentiful supply of water.

Following are some of the latest developments in the mining properties listed in the Nevada City Nugget's monthly review:

HUSSEY MINE

At the Hussey mine in Willow Valley taking out of ore on numbers one and two levels continues with milling being done at their Queen Lil mill. O. McCraney and G. M. Bettles are in charge of operations.

IDAHO-MARYLAND MINES

Ore from the 1,000 ton capacity bin which has been full for ten days, is being treated in the new Marcey mill, installation of which was completed Thursday, at the Idaho-Maryland property. The 75 ton mill is to be the primary crushing unit for the extensive mill facilities installed during the past year.

The 72 foot headframe, new hoisting house and hoisting equipment at the new circular shaft is being rushed to handle the work of the boring machine. The shaft is now down over 150 feet and boring will continue as surface contrauction permits.

MATTIE GOLD MINE

One shift is working at the Mattie Gold mine on cross cutting operations on the 600 foot level of the new 750 foot shaft where highly satisfactory ore is being taken out. The vein show signs of fractures but it is thought further work will pick up the main vein. A new vein was picked up in the hanging wall by a small crew on one of the levels that is expected to develop into a rich pay streak. Plans are to continue sinking the three compartment shaft to the 1,000 foot level. Mike McGuire is superintendent.

HOGE DEVELOPMENT COMPANY

The men working in the Hoge Development company mine, have been increased to 15. Ore of excellent grade is being mined and milled in the big mill on the property.

ANCHO-ERIE MINE

Equipment and supplies have been taken to the Ancho mine, which is between Washington and Graniteville, and operation will continue through the winter. R. A. Miesse is superintendent and M. D. Hanke,

ROBBERS SENT TO SAN QUENTIN

Mrs. Jean Cunningham and James Kelly convicted of robbing Mavity of $80 September 22, were sentenced by Judge Raglan Tuttle Wednesday to an indeterminate stay in San Quentin. They will spend anywhere from one to five years there depending upon the decision of the Prison Board. James Kelly has already gone to serve his time. Sheriff Carter stated that Mrs. Cunnigham would be transferred today.

In sentencing the prisoners Judge Tuttle paid high tribute to efficient work done by the District Attorney and Sheriff's offices.

Mrs. Cunningham has the distinction of being the second woman to be sentenced from Nevada county in many decades, according to Sheriff Carter. About two years ago, a Mrs. Welch who had stolen an automobile and decamped, was returned here from Arizona by Sheriff Carter, and convicted and sentenced.

Tognarelli Building Grand Opening Sat.

The grand opening of the new brick Tognarelli building on lower Broad street will take place tomorrow. "Long John" Tognarelli is receiving many congratulations on his enterprise.

The three apartments upstairs were furnished Thursday and Mr. and Mrs. Tognarelli and daughter, Catherine at once moved into the one they had selected for themselves.

These apartments are the latest word in modern conveniences. There are hardwood floors throughout the upstairs, and the walls are finished in dainty colors of California stucco. Artistic lighting fixtures add charm and cheer. The many pieces of hardwood furniture and soft toned rugs and drapes in living and bed rooms are in the latest mode. In the kitchens are built-in conveniences, gas stoves, refrigerators, and pretty furniture; tile finishes the bathrooms and each apartment has a modern laundy room. These apartments are equal to those in any large city. Mr. and Mrs. Tognarelli have had no trouble in renting the apartments, there being many calls for them.

Downstairs Mr. Tognarelli has reserved one of the large rooms for his place of business, calling it "Long John's Tavern," which carries out the motif of taverns of olden times. The hardwood floors, large mahogany bar and big round mirror set in a wall of square wood panels after the old English manner make the whole a cheerful scene.

Frank Williams, contractor, is receiving praise for the rapidity with which he built this substantial modern building and its many built-in fixtures.

The following local firms supplied materials for this fine building which is an important addition to the business district of Nevada City: Alpha Hardware Company, plumbing and hardware; Foote Electrical Company, wiring, electrical fixtures, refrigerators and signs; John Bray, decorating and painting; Kenneth Arbogast, lumber; Nevada County Lumber Company, Fred Conners, lumber; Diamond Match, roofing, windows and doors; Lotz and Bennett, plastering and cement work; George O'Neil, tin sheet work.

A CALIFORNIA TEST

The significance of last Sunday's dedication of Tahoe-Ukiah and the opening of the new link in that highway is told in Mrs. Conner's verse elsewhere on this page. It is told much better in her sharply hewn verse that it could be in the prose of an editorial or a newspaper story.

However, not having been able to attend this ceremonial, the writer hereof does wish to pay a tribute to those who braved the worst storm of this winter to demonstrate that public spirited enterprise which makes California a great state and Californians a proud people.

In that caravan of some sixty or seventy motor cars filled with enthusiastic delegates, fully 25 per cent were from Nevada City and Grass Valley, these, of course, with full knowledge of the surprises which stormy weather holds for wayfarers in these parts.

And for those others, particularly Governor Merriam, who came from Sacramento, and all those in his party, the trip in such weather was not one for pleasure. It called for a high sense of duty and service to mark this mile stone in the building of a greater and a better California.

All those scheduled for a part in this program, including the Governor, deputy Public Works Director Neron, Judge George L. Jones, who participated in the series of addresses as representative of the Native Sons, James K. O'Brien, the "dreamer" referred to in Mrs. Conner's verse, Fred F. Cassidy, who has done so much to motivate Nevada City's chamber of commerce, and Jack Wolff, whose interest in good roads for Nevada and Sierra counties has been a great factor in securing the county cooperation which leads to success, deserve that tribute of praise which their fellow citizens gladly accord them.

"It was an exhibition of real sportsmanship for Governor Merriam, deputy Director Neron (Department of Public Works), various state and county officials and visitors from Nevada City, Grass Valley, and points as far away as Mendocino county, Sacramento, San Francisco, and Southern California, to brave a storm of blizzard proportions."

Mr. Wolff, as chairman of the arrangements committee, on Monday, dispatched a letter to Governor Merriam, which follows:

"You certainly proved your mettle yesterday when in spite of a raging snow storm you continued into the high Sierra for the dedication of the Tahoe-Ukiah highway. It would have been utterly impossible for you to have done anything which would have endeared you more to the mountain residents of California than your sportsmanship in opening the road at yesterday's ceremony. We are under heavy obligations to you."

The Great American Home

Opening the Highway

In the wilds of the high Sierras,
Far from the rain drenched town,
They opened the Tahoe-Ukiah
As the snow came drifting down;
And every man was a booster,
For the knocker is out of luck
When lending a hand to a strenuous task
That calls for decision and pluck.

They opend the Tahoe-Ukiah
In a blizzard of snow and rain,
But with spirits all undaunted
They will trend that way again;
For visions of snow clad mountains
And great trees swathed in white,
Will alluringly call and beckon.
"Come back to the ranges of light"

In the wilds of the great Sierras,
In the teeth of an icy gale,
They opened the new made highway
On the old Ukiah trail;
And perchance a delegation
From a land beyond our ken,
Watched as they bucked the snow drifts,
And shouted, "good work, my men!"

So here's to O'Brien, the dreamer,
Our Governor and the rest,
Who opened the Tahoe-Ukiah
With the spirit that conquered the west;
Who taught us that fine achievement
And romance are born anew
When the patience and faith of the dreamer
Are linked with the will to do.

—A. Merriam Conner.

U. S. MAIL CARRIER AIDS STALLED CAR DRIVER

Pike Solaro, who with a two horse sleigh, handles the mail route from Graniteville to the snow line for Steve Matteoda, came out over several inches of snow Monday. When he came to Cherry Hill near the S. Randsburg place, he found a man and a stalled auto that had been out all night. Solaro hooked onto the car and pulled it out.

CHRISTMAS TREE DEMAND POINTS TO GOOD TIMES

Another indication of better times is an increased demand this year on the part of agents of Santa Claus for the purchase of Christmas trees from the national forests of California. Three times the available stock has been applied for, according to T. D. Woodbury, assistant regional forester in charge of timber sales. Available stock is trees cut from the crowded groves of young growth for the purpose of giving light and ground space to the remaining stand left to grow into a future forest.

Christmas trees cut on the national forests form a relatively small per cent of the total used in California, but one of the local species of trees is becoming an important part of the annual celebration. This is the Silver Tip or Silver Fir to disciples of Santa Claus, California red fir to foresters, and Abies magnifica to scientists. Lumbermen have no name for it. The young of the Silver Tip are almost mechanically symmetrical in form with upturned, compact branches and limbs covered with dark green foliage whose needles sometimes have a silvery sheen. Proud and sturdy, it can carry a glittering load of Christmas cheer without drooping and has been gaining such favor in the past few years that it may soon be known as "California's Christmas Tree."

Forest officers say that genial Saint Nicholas himself must have taken the Silver Tip under his special protection. It is an exclusive sort of tree, being found only high up in the northern coast range and in the Sierra at altitudes between 6,000 and 8,500 feet and it usually grows without mixture of other species of trees; it has no use for birth control and is a firm believer in large families; its high plane of living places it above the risk of forest fires. Not only is it out of the commercial timber belt, but the wood of the mature trees, encased in the narrow ridged chocolate brown bark offers no attraction to lumbermen. Being comparatively inaccessible and of low commercial value it was ignored in the days before the national forests were created when millions of acres were being privately acquired to feed the California sawmills.

With few exceptions the Silver Tip grows on government lands within the national forests, where it is being protected and managed under forestry methods so that a continuous supply of Christmas trees will be available just as long as California's children behave well enough to insure a visit from Santa Claus.

SCOUT POW-WOW AUBURN, NOV. 30

Scout troop officers will gather again at the Methodist church in Auburn, Friday, November 30, at 9 A. M., for a scout Pow-Wow to discuss patrol activities. Eagle Scouts of the local chapter of the Knights of Dunamis and older scouts, will give instruction and lead discussion groups dealing with patrol and troop organization.

The single days program has been prepared and will be directed by members of the Knights of Dunamis for patrol leaders, senior patrol leaders, troop scribes and junior assistant scoutmasters, who will be assigned to groups with two older scouts as leaders to study the patrol activities of camping, organization, leadership, instruction, community service, meetings and projects.

A dinner will be served at noon for the scout delegates by the mothers of Auburn troops No. 3 and 19. A picture of the scouts making up the Pow-wow, will be made and presented to each delegate, and a certificate will be presented each scout completing the days training in patrol methods.

From advance information based on troops already reporting, it is expected that at least 70 will attend.

WHITE CLOUD CCC BOYS MOVE TO GRASS VALLEY

All the CCC boys at White Cloud camp up on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway have been moved to camp Grass Valley except two crews who are bracing the buildings and preparing the camp for winter storms. The work will be completed by the end of the week. As soon as the work is done the camp will be turned over to the care of the Tahoe National Forest. Camp Grass Valley is now in fine shape and open to the inspection of visitors, states Captain Waldo B. Telfer.

Russel B. Farley, state board of equalization officer, came up from Sacramento Monday and will locate in this section temporarily. He is staying at the Bret Harte Inn.

DREDGER ROBBED NEAR MARYSVILLE YESTERDAY

Sheriff Carter was called yesterday afternoon in connection with a robbery of a gold dredger near Marysville on the Yuba River. It was thought that the robbers were heading this way on the Marysville road, however, the Chevrolet car, in which the thieves were believed to have escaped, was not seen at any time. The robbery occurred at about 2 o'clock; it was clean-up day on the dredger. It is not known just what the value of the theft amounted to.

of Carmel, is the owner. Sufficient ore is being mined from a drift and winze to keep the 10 stamp mill in steady production. R. A. Miese is superintendent and M. D. Hanke, is the owner. Sixteen men are employed.

RIVER PLACERS PROPERTY

It is learned that work is practically completed for this season at the River Placers. Two draglines have taken surface gravel for a distance of 2,000 feet in a bend in the South Yuba river after the water had been drained through a tunnel. Mr. Hughes is superintendent.

SPRING HILL MINE

Work has practically stopped at the Spring Hill mine, north of Grass Valley. Sampling is being done in the adjoining Golden Gate shaft as it is unwatered through the Golden Gate shaft. H. R. Plate is in charge of the property.

EMPIRE-STAR MINE

From different sources it is learned the Empire-Star mine, of Grass Valley, plans to extend the Central shaft from the present 3,200 foot vertical level for some 800 or 1,000 feet to open up more virgin territory. Station cutting is said to be well advanced in preparation for the new work. Fred W. Nobs is manager.

MURCHIE MINE

The sinking of a shaft at the Murchie mine 550 feet down from the present 1,600 foot level, is a part of the Newmont company's plan for opening up of new territory. The company will eventually bring this shaft to the surface close to the present mill site in order to increase production which is now held at 8,000 tons per month. George Kervin is superintendent.

ALASKA MINE

Three transformers of 250 kilowats each are to be installed by the P. G. & E., Co., at the Alaska mine. They passed through Nevada City Wednesday. Each truck weighed about 10 tons and another truck with equipment followed in order to assist in case one of the others mired in the wet mountain roads. The transformers at the mine are to be removed and the larger ones installed to handle the heavy flow of water. It is expected unwatering will be completed shortly when the old workings will be sampled. The shaft has been retimbered to the 120 foot depth. R. C. Eisenhauer is engineer and James Trembath superintendent.

UNION BLUE MINE

Four men have been employed in recent weeks to reopen the old Union Blue property at North Bloomfield. A truck load of pipe was taken to the mine a few days ago Clark and Taylor are reopening the property. Mr. Clark is also in charge of the Relief Hill gravel mine.

OMEGA GRAVEL PROPERTY

The Omega gravel property in the Washington district has a crew of seven employed drifting in a tunnel and preparing for hydraulic operations.

MODERNIZING CHANGES OLD HOUSE INTO NEW SPANISH BUNGALOW

Homes throughout the country are being modernized as a result of the liberal financing plan made available by the National Housing Act. Local banks and other financial institutions approved by the Federal Housing Administration are making loans to do this work.

Remember, no down payment is necessary, provided the cost does not exceed $2,000 and you can meet other simple requirements. You may pay the money back monthly, according to your income.

Many homes that have been modernized you would not recognize now as the same places.

Of course, the structure of the house must be sound and it must be well located before it is wise to spend much money on improvements. But if you are satisfied as to these essentials, there is no limit to the many things you can do to bring the house up to date.

A new coating of stucco is one good way to make an old house young again. Or you may use lumber or brick or some of the other surfacing materials.

The architectural style of the house frequently can be completely altered with but slight changes to the underlying framework.

Spanish designs are popular in many sections of the country. Because of the regular horizontal lines characteristic of this type of architecture, many old houses can be converted to the Spanish type at comparatively small cost.

FRENCH CORRAL

BY MRS. KATE M. SULLIVAN

FRENCH CORRAL, Nov. 22.—Rain, rain, and more rain. The past week has brought water in plenteous supply. Miners who spent the summer months at work on the river have moved up and are now busy washing pieces of ground that were awaiting this winter rains. As yet we have had no frost in this section.

An old timer of this vicinity passed out of existence a week ago, when what was known as the oldest pine tree around here, was felled. Ninety rings could be distinctly counted in a cross section of it and it is safe to say it was nearing the century mark.

Some of the children who played beneath its shade are now great grandparents. This grand old monarch and tower of strength and beauty that could look down upon earth from more than one hundred and twenty feet had a little enemy pine beetle, which did its cruel work. Though this grand old tree seemed to recover itself for a while, the owner, J. H. Haslett thought it best to convert it into wood. "Only God can make a tree" and it surely brings a pang of sorrow to see his wonderful work in ruins. Fight the pine beetle! That will help the unemployed.

Mr. C. Graham who has been mining in the river during the summer months has moved up to our neighborhood. His daughter Imogene, is with him. Mrs. Sibley and Mrs. Farley, two other daughters, are visiting him at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bishop, who spent the summer and fall months here, have returned to their home in Marysville.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. May have gone to Sacramento on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Reed, of San Francisco, spent the week end with friends in this place. Mr. Reed has taken up mining interests here.

W. E. Moulton made a trip to Sacramento last week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Randy, of Sacramento, were recent visitors.

We were sorry to hear from them that C. L. Miller is in poor health and had recently suffered a serious heart attack. Mr. Miller, while not a native of French Corral, spent his boyhood and early manhood years here. He succeeded his father, the late H. V. Miller as superintendent of the Kate Hays Mining Company. He and his family resided in North San Juan for several years, also.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dudley, of Nevada City, spent the week end with Mrs. Dudley's parents, Mr. and Mrs W. E. Moulton, of French Coral.

Miss Nelly Sullivan, Mrs. Kate Sullivan and Lloyd Haslett, were visitors in Nevada City last week.

C. F. Hoffman and son, Cecil, of Sacramento, were Sunday visitors.

We were sorry to learn that Harry Browning, of this place, who has been working in a restaurant in Nevada City, was severely burned about the face and arms by steam from an electric cooker. He was taken to the home of his grand mother, Mrs. Annie Browning.

Ex-residents who were friends of Miss Louise Wetzel, of San Francisco, will be sorry to learn that she passed away at the Native Daughters Home, 555 Baker St., San Francisco. In other years, Miss Wetzel made frequent visits to this place and spent the summer months with relatives here. Her brother, Theodore Wetzel, was for many years superintendent of the Derbec mine near North Bloomfield. Miss Wetzel was for a long time matron of the Native Daughters' Home.

OLD BATHROOMS CAN NOW BE MADE NEW

National Housing Act Has Loosened Local Credit for Modernizing Work

In no room is the oldness of a house more obvious than in the bathroom.

This is because the makers of plumbing equipment have so improved their products in recent years that the bathtub or lavatory of only a few years back appears out of date.

You can buy a complete new bathroom now without a down payment and on easy monthly terms because of the credit facilities opened up by the National Housing Act.

From your local bank or other financial institution cooperating with the Federal Housing Administration you can borrow as much as $2,000 for home improvements and pay it back according to your income in a period of as much as 3 years, and, in certain cases 5 years.

The photographers here show how an old bathroom was transformed. Nottice the new built-in equipment, the built-in radiator, the large Venetian mirror with built-in toilet shelves, the shiny walls and floor, the built-in shower.

Think what a modernized bath like this, or perhaps an extra bath, would mean in your own home. With the modern economical materials on the market you can do th work for comparatively little if you plan it carefully.

The modern trend is to have the bathroom bright and colorful, not only as to the walls and floors, but the bathroom equipment itself. Much of the new equipment is offered in various pastel shades.

The modern trend is also toward making the bathroom large enough to serve as a dressing room, with vanity dressing table and other accessories for the complete toilet.

GIANT KING IS UNDER OPTION

WASHINGTON, Calif., Nov. 22—Charles E. Stewart, of Reno, Nev., has taken an option on the Giant King group of claims situated in the Washington mining district. The Giant King is located on the east side of Washington Creek, about 1 ½ miles above the town of Washington. There is a large body of heavily mineralized ore containing good values. There are plenty is timber and water for all mining puroses. The property was located many years ago by Mr. M. M. Cole, father of Clyde Cole, and while Mr. Cole lived he mined it successfully. At one time a large shipment of ore was sent to Selby's and showed values between 60 and 70 dollars per ton. The general average of ore is low grade, however, with the modern milling and flotation process of today, the Giant King promises to be one of the best producers in Nevada county.

PAHATSI VISIT FOR SCOUTS DEC. 31--JAN. 4

With the advent of snow, the thoughts of snow sports have been reawakened in the minds of the scouts and the issue of the winter camp Bulletin of the Tahoe Area Council has been good news to the scouts of the area.

The regular winter trip at Camp Pahatsi will be for a five dap period from December 31, to January 4. A "B" Camp of three or four days will be held between Christmas and New Years if sufficient interest is shown to warrant the two camps. At present the Oakland and Berkeley scouts are showing interest in the "B" camp.

Last year 294 campers spent one or more nights at the scout lodge between Christmas and Marsh 1, for a total of 813 camper days. Indications are that a greater number will use the Kilborn Lake scout property this year than last.

INTERESTING DRAMAS AT NEVADA THEATER

John Wayne, popular star of more than a score of western pctures, will appear in the first of his new series of eight Lone Star Productions, tonight in "The Trail Beyond," at the Nevada Theater. Adapted from a James Oliver Curwood novel of the Canadian wilds, the picture boasts an excellent supporting cast. Among the players are Noah Beery, Noah Beery, Jr., and Verna Hillie.

"AGE OF INNOCENCE"

In "The Age of Innocence," which plays at the Nevada Theater, costarred with Irene Dunne, John Boles, is typical of sons of the aristocracy of the Seventies. Coddled during his young years and taught verbatim the laws of decorum he was expected to follow, he conforms to them and accepts their righteousness without question. His role is that of a lawyr—one of few respectable money earning folk smiled upon by the elite. Then suddenly he finds his standards subjected to the glaring light of reason and he questions the validity of the social code.

"STRAIGHT IS THE WAY"

Drama . . . pathos . . . human interest . . . and a fair sprinkling of wholesome humor—all these are to be found in the new picture, "Straight Is the Way," which will show Sunday night at the Nevada Theater.

It is a story that requires the services of finished actors, for it is the gripping drama of the travails of one of New York's East Side families—and of the problems of life and love that entangle a returned ex-convict who is determined to keep to the traight and narrow path.

SAN JUAN MINE

Diamond drilling and trenching continues at the San Juan mine, west of North San Juan, owned by qthe Bradley interests, to determine values and size of ore bodies on the property. Some time ago a number of claims were located adjacent to the original property. C. J. Lyser is superintendent.

LOCAL ELKS TO INITIATE CLASS IN PORTOLA CAL.

Officers of the Nevada City Lodge of Elks will leave tomorrow afternoon for Portola, Plumas county, where they will initiate a large class into the order. Exalted Ruler W. E. Wright, Robert Tharp, Curtis Clark, Roland Wright, Arthur Elliott, Vincent Foley, and Donald Murphy will be included in the party. The trip will be made by train, since the motoring over snow covered passes is now to hazardous and uncertain.

Mr. W. V. Tamblyn will be a spectator at the Stanford-California game tomorrow.
